

LANXING FU

Lanxing Fu is a Chinese-American, multidisciplinary theater artist rooted in social practice. She is a writer, producer, performer, and educator, and Co-Director of Superhero Clubhouse, an interdisciplinary collective creating theater for climate justice. Her artistic work has been seen throughout NYC in hotel rooms, parks, townhouses, and spaces such as The Public Theater, LaMaMa ETC, Brick Theater, LaGuardia PAC, and Baryshnikov Arts Center, and developed with institutions nationally and internationally.

Previously, she was Producing Associate with SITI Company, guest lecturer at Skidmore College and is currently a guest director at Pace University. She has been a speaker and facilitator with Theatre Communications Group, The New School, Virginia Tech, Columbia University, and more.

Her writings on theater, climate arts, and intersectional justice have been published across a variety of platforms.

Lanxing currently serves as a Co-Director of HERE Arts Center.

Lanxing will be speaking in Minneapolis during the MOMENTUM convening on August 6, 2026.

MomentumRevolutions.com